

Dental Veneers Return the Luster to Your Smile

Moncks Corner dental veneers are, without compare, one of the latest and best cosmetic dental procedures offered by Moncks corner dentists. It doesn't matter whether your teeth are deeply stained, cracked or chipped; your Moncks Corner dental veneers will make your smile as good as new. Dental veneers are long lasting casings specifically designed to blend in with your surrounding teeth and are bonded to your teeth to correct cosmetic dental problems. Porcelain, with its superb stain resistant properties, is more popular as dental veneer material, but dental veneers are made from resin composites as well. Your Moncks Corner dentist will determine which material best suits your particular smile.

The procedure is broken down into several steps, beginning with an initial consultation and preparation of the tooth or teeth for bonding. The problem area of your tooth is first scraped away down to anticipated veneer depth (with the help of local anesthesia if you prefer), then an impression is taken and sent to a dental lab for preparation of your dental veneer. Preparation may take a few weeks if color adjustments are needed. At your next visit, your dentist will compare the veneer against your other teeth for correct placement, then prepare your tooth surface for actual application of the veneer. The application process utilizes acid etching to roughen the tooth surface for veneer placement. The veneer is then attached to your tooth with the help of a composite, and bonding and hardening is expedited with the help of a special light. Afterwards, you may need a couple of follow up visits to your Moncks Corner dentist to confirm that your gums are accepting the dental veneer.

Dental veneers have one huge benefit in that they hide orthodontic problems quite effectively and may even entirely eliminate the need for corrective braces. Once your veneer is in place, and in contrast to corrective braces, no follow up visits other than those for normal dental maintenance are required. You are left with what appears to be your natural tooth, down to the translucent characteristic of real tooth enamel. The choice should be simple, then. Ask your Moncks Corner dentist for information on dental veneers. You could save yourself a substantial amount of time and money by choosing dental veneers over corrective braces and still come away with the same winning smile.
